

Announcement of Position Limit for EA Futures.

According to the change of total outstanding shares for EA listed in the Stock Exchange of Thailand, Thailand Futures Exchange would like to announce the new Position Limit for EA Futures that will be effective from January 30, 2025 onwards.

Unit: Contracts

Underlying	New Position Limit	Old Position Limit	Change
EA	74,300	37,100	Increase 37,200

Remarks: Currently, EA Futures is still suspended trading due to the suspension of the underlying stock.

TFEX will adjust the position limit according to the following criteria.

1. TFEX will review and announce the new position limit every 6 months. During the period of six months, TFEX may adjust position limits in the case that there is more than 10% change in the number of all paid up shares of the underlying stock.
2. If the new position limit is lower than the open position currently held by any investors, TFEX will allow investors to hold their existing position until the expiration but may not add to their current position.